The choice of the correct tent is almost more important than the choice of a trailer as it provides the living space and protects you and your family from the elements.

The Desert Wolf trailer tents are unique in design and the use of material. The design aim is to create a tent that is light and airy, completely waterproof and most importantly, quick to put up. The trailer tents are manufactured in two models, the 5-man and the 6-man tent. Each tent has an octagonal flysheet that is permanently attached to the tent and very easy to erect. There is a 100mm space between the tent and the flysheet, ensuring that the tent is always in its own shade. Optional sides that can be attached to the flysheet to create a cosy space in bad weather. We also manufacture a smaller fly sheet with only two poles for use in applications where the large flysheet is not required.

The tents are manufactured in any height from 1.4m to 2.2m and can be fitted on any trailer.

The 5-man tent has two compartments and can accommodate two people on a double bed on top of the trailer and three people on the removable ground sheet.

The 6-man tent has three compartments and can accommodate two people on a double bed on top of the trailer, two in the room next to the trailer and two in the room furthest away from the trailer.

while damp and our tents are up to 50% lighter than similar sized tents. We only use YKK Vislon lifetime zips. These zips are manufactured from molded plastic and are not affected by dust. The removable ground sheet and tent cover is manufactured from PVC.

The tent base is manufactured from a solid wood superstructure, padded with polystyrene for insulation and covered with varnished superwood. All other fitting are stainless steel and aluminium. Each tent is supplied with adjustable anodized aluminium poles and reflective tent ropes, long, strong tent pegs, all packed in separate bags. A standard (or extra long) double bed can be used in the tent and a wide step stainless steel ladder and safety rail are optional extras.

Desert Wolf also manufactures a range of dome tents, roof-top and vehicle tents and other canvas products
